ABOUT
DE LAVOY

A CANADIAN COMPANY

Mr. Lionel Lavoie founded the company in 1980 and established the De Lavoy studio in the heart of Old Montreal, just a few steps from the Palais de Justice (Montreal Court House). For more than 30 years, De Lavoy has been producing quality legal attire that is made-to-measure and second to none.

A FAMILY TRADITION

De Lavoy began as a family business with a tradition of excellence and has since maintained its presence as such in the legal tailoring world. As the company has grown, so too has the De Lavoy team. Skilled seamstresses and tailors round out the family operation. The business has flourished since the early days in Old Montreal and is expanding across Canada with an extended network of independent tailors and clothiers representing De Lavoy in local markets. Visit us online at delavoy.ca to find a local representative.

OUR COMMITMENT

De Lavoy is dedicated to respecting the highest standards of quality within the clothing industry. Our products are innovative, comfortable and custom-tailored to each discerning client. De Lavoy's standard of service is equally high and we pride ourselves on offering the utmost in customer care, providing professional, knowledgeable and courteous service.

THE DE LAVOY DIFFERENCE

Most manufacturers use standard-sized templates to produce their gowns, providing off-the-rack solutions for a broad market.

At De Lavoy, it is understood that each client is unique, with his or her own tastes and preferences. As a truly hand-crafted product, each robe is made-to-order for each customer, offering special details and unparalleled comfort for both men and women. By using over ten different tailoring measurements, you know when you receive your De Lavoy robe, the fit will be just right.

FINAL DETAILS

De Lavoy offers quality both inside and out—even the interior canvas of each robe is made of superior fabric. Pleats are folded by hand, tucked individually and aligned and matched for symmetry. Sleeves are lined with a crisp, smooth taffeta for a luxurious and comfortable fit. Buttons and hooks are sewn by hand with durable horsehair thread for a lifetime of service. Each robe is personalized with the name of the owner embroidered in metallic gold, metallic silver or white thread on the yoke of the robe alongside the De Lavoy mark. This unity symbolizes the partnership to be enjoyed for the life of the robe.

MATERIALS

Polyester and Wool Blend:

This fabric offers both a distinguished look and practicality. It is the most wrinkle-resistant material we offer and holds less static than polyester alone. With excellent breathability, it stays comfortable and travels well when you are on-the-go. De Lavoy's polyester and wool blend robes are the most durable of our products and offer 20 - 30 years of service.

Pure Tropical Wool (140 Thread Count):

This material affords exceptional comfort. As an all-natural fibre, it holds less static than our polyester blend and breathes better than either polyester or polyester blends. The fabric drapes more fully than other materials for a refined look.

Super 160 Wool (160 Thread Count):

This material affords the ultimate in comfort and style. This all-natural fabric wrinkles less than the tropical wool while still draping fully. It offers the same breathability and static-resistant qualities of an all-natural fabric. The black is richer than the pure tropical wool and this fabric offers the softest and most luxurious feel to the touch.
